Honors

Winner of the Harry J. Kalven, Jr. Award for Outstanding Scholarship in Law and Society (known as the Kalven Prize), awarded annually by the Law and Society Association “for empirical scholarship that has contributed most effectively to the advancement of research in law and society.” The Prize is “not a book award, nor is it a career achievement award, but is given in recognition of a body of scholarly work, some portion of which has been completed within the past few years,” 2013.

Winner of the Inaugural Outstanding Book Award, awarded annually by the American Sociological Association, Section on Altruism, Morality and Social Solidarity, 2012 (for Moral Time).

Winner of the Theory Prize, awarded biennially by the American Sociological Association, Theory Section, 1994 (for The Social Structure of Right and Wrong).

Winner of the Distinguished Book Award, awarded biennially by the American Sociological Association, Section on the Sociology of Law, 1994 (for The Social Structure of Right and Wrong).

Winner of the Distinguished Scholarship Prize, awarded biennially by the American Sociological Association, Section on the Sociology of Law, 1997 (for “The Epistemology of Pure Sociology”).

C. Wright Mills Award, first runner-up, awarded annually by the Society for the Study of Social Problems, 1977 (for The Behavior of Law).

Fellow of the American Society of Criminology, a title conferred annually on persons “who have achieved distinction in criminology” in the form of “a scholarly contribution to the intellectual life of the discipline,” 1991.

Fellow Designate, Center for Advanced Study in the Behavioral Sciences, Stanford, California

Selected for inclusion in Un Dictionnaire des Grands Sociologues et Politologues (Dictionary of the Great Sociologists and Political Scientists), by Frédéric Teulon. Paris: Presses Universitaires de France, 2013.
